

Planned Giving

By naming the East Texas Food Bank as a beneficiary of your will, you leave a legacy that provides much-needed food for East Texans in need for years to come.

Join our Hunger Will End Society by making a planned gift to the East Texas Food Bank. A planned gift can be of any size; none is too small. All you need is a commitment to fighting hunger!

If you have included the East Texas Food Bank in your estate plans, please let us know so that we can properly thank you. For more information, we suggest you consult with your attorney.

For more information on these and other planned gifts to help feed hungry children, families and seniors throughout East Texas, please contact Peggy Berry, development director, at 903-597-3663 extension 16 or pberry@secondharvest.org.
